GEOTRACES Publication Databases on Mendeley
How to make advanced searches

You can use a limited number of advanced queries within the search box in the top right of Mendeley web site. However, the search box tool is not limited to the GEOTRACES group but to all Mendeley's publications.

If you want to make an advanced search within GEOTRACES publications only, you can download the Mendeley Desktop that is available for free on Mendeley web site. This will allow you to have the list of GEOTRACES publications on your computer and follow every new GEOTRACES publication. The Desktop will also allow you to make all types of searches. For each publication you will be able to view the abstract and access the publication by using a DOI hyperlink.

The following document provides instructions on how to download Mendeley Desktop and how to view and follow GEOTRACES publications on it.

How to download and install Mendeley Desktop ?

1. Go to Mendeley web site : http://www.mendeley.com
